serving the greater need

For 140 years Cameron House has been empowering generations of Chinese American individuals and their families to fully participate in, and contribute positively toward, a healthy society. Our dedicated staff cares about each individual's well being, and we provide many essential services for low-income immigrants, welcoming them into our loving and supportive community. We put our Christian faith into action to help people learn, heal, and thrive.

Asians in America have high rates of suicide, depression, and post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD), coupled with low rates of accessing mental health services. Suicide is more common for this group than the overall population. In particular, older Chinese women and girls from 15–24 have especially high suicide rates compared to other groups.

Some of the factors that increase the risk of acute depression and anxiety are poverty, overcrowding, unemployment, domestic violence, the challenges of acculturation, and isolation from friends and family. These factors are prevalent among San Francisco’s Chinese community, which still has a large percentage of first- and second-generation Chinese Americans.*

Studies indicate that children and teenagers need a positive space: a place to feel connected, listened to, and empowered. They need a safe place in which they can discover and develop their talents, test their competencies without fear of ridicule, and be assured of strong and effective adults to help them with their challenges. When they achieve this sense of emotional well being and achievement, they are more motivated to engage in school and extra-curricular activities; and they are more apt to succeed. These are precisely the areas our youth programs address, while also focusing on children's scholastic development. Through the years, we have helped thousands of children flourish.

Thanks to generous donors and supporters, in 2014 we:
- awarded a total of $16,750 in academic scholarships to 10 high school recipients for college expenses (from the Cameron House Foundation);
- provided a total of $43,240 in financial assistance to 107 youth for our Summer Programs (Bilingual Youth Program, Cameron Ventures and Solid Ground); and
- gave a total of $9,730 in financial assistance and scholarships to 35 youth for Westminster Woods Youth Camp.

Eighty-two percent (82%) of our Bilingual Afterschool Program (BAP) students are from “Extremely Low-Income” to “Low-Income” households (as defined by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for 2014).

*Statistics from API’s Health and Wellness report, May 2014
Cameron House’s Social Services Ministry offers comprehensive services to low-income Chinese immigrant individuals and families in the San Francisco Bay Area. Chinese immigrants face numerous layers of challenges, and many families are under great stress while trying to build a new life and family in America. We provide opportunities for them to improve English and gain new life skills, build healthy relationships through counseling, and strengthen parent and child relationships through interactive parent-child workshops. Our clients suffering from cancer receive peer group support from other cancer survivors and family members. We also offer survivors of domestic violence emotional support, a peer support group, interpretation services, as well as resources for shelters, legal assistance, health services, and social services. As part of our personal approach, we may accompany them to appointments so that they are not alone in their journey toward becoming self-sufficient.

At the core of our Social Services Ministry’s vision of impact is support and healing – healing for those afflicted as well as for those around them who are being impacted. We focus on developing a community that promotes trust, harmony, and peace.

530 individuals were served through our Asian Domestic Violence Intervention and Advocacy Program, Counseling services, Cancer Support Group, Women’s Support Group, Accelerate Program (ESL class, case management, and Job Readiness class), and Interactive Parent-Child Workshops.

“The things I learned in order to be successful in school and in my career, I learned at Cameron House.” We hear these sentiments frequently. Doctors, lawyers, business owners, teachers, pastors – all alumni of our youth programs – credit their time here as being crucial to their development.

At Cameron House, our programs do far more than deliver education or provide after-school care. They cultivate responsibility, compassion, and working together as a team. They encourage youth to stretch themselves beyond their comfort zone, to be themselves, and to help those in need – all within an environment where they are safe and well cared for.

The world is changing rapidly. It is more difficult for young people to discern healthy values, to find a community of caring people, and to feel safe. It is more difficult for low-income families to live in San Francisco, and it is more difficult for immigrants to navigate the complexities of daily living. Cameron House is the place where they come to find all of these things. We could not do this without the support of our donors, volunteers, community partners, and friends; and for this, we are thankful.
Our vision for Youth Ministries is to create a safe environment for the children, youth, and young adults that come through our doors. A safe environment means that they can be themselves, are respected, and are connected to adults who care about their success and well-being. We provide the experience of living in a Christian community that welcomes, accepts and celebrates their diversity, while equipping and enhancing their physical, social, mental/emotional, and spiritual development.

Over 560 youth and young adults were served through our programs this year. We offered: a young women’s backpacking trip on Angel Island; daily summer MUNI rides to Golden Gate Park; overnight camping under the Golden Gate Bridge; a Mini Caravan up the coast to Ft. Bragg near Mendocino; Oriflamme’s (12th-grade Commission’s) Summer Service Mission trip to Toppenish, WA; an unforgettable basketball experience in Heidelberg, Germany followed by hosting the German team for a week on the 5th floor; a week-long youth camp at Westminster Woods; and an opportunity for youth to go door-to-door in San Francisco’s Richmond neighborhood to raise funds for the Harvest Home Food Project. Hundreds of Youth Ministries program children, youth, and young adults were out-and-about and actively making a difference!
Mimi (name changed to protect her privacy) is now a single mother of two teens. Twelve years ago, because of a domestic violence situation in her home, she came to Cameron House for help. On that first day she spent most of her time pacing the sidewalk outside our building. Because of the patience and encouragement of the Social Services Director, Mimi set foot inside Cameron House the following day and began her journey towards healing. The nurturing of staff and the new friends she made in the Cantonese Women’s Support Group slowly helped her build her self-esteem and hope. In the same year, her young daughter benefited from individual counseling with the Social Services staff while also participating in our Youth Ministries Bilingual After-School Program (BAP) and Summer Programs. As the years went on, Mimi’s young son also began attending both programs. He is still involved with our youth programs today.

Each year, whole families are benefiting from the programs and services of both the Social Services Ministry and Youth Ministries. Staff from the two departments collaborate and consult with one another for the common benefit and success of a child and his/her family, or a mom and her children. The gift of healing and hope are what we witness at Cameron House each and every day.

If you’re not yet a supporter of Cameron House, we invite you to visit our programs and see why many community members consider us “Home.”
